EFAGRIR School gives an education in the social and agricultural fields. It welcomes youngsters from year 9 (about 14 years old) and prepares them to take and pass the different exams of the French school system. The pupils in our school are either interested in the schooling we offer or in disruption with the other educational systems. For the latter, we try to make sure that their interest gets higher and higher for the time they spend with us. The specificity of our teaching is characterized by multidiscipline units (during which several teachers give classes simultaneously about a same topic) along with several training sessions in the professional world.

The general teaching is articulated around different educational axis :

- General, technological and professional education.
- Service and contact in rural areas
- Service and care to people (children and elderly people)
- Science and technology

Our school offers two-year technical degree classes for A-level graduates.

These classes are organized on an apprenticeship basis : half time at school / half time at work. The three higher technical degrees prepared in our school are :

- Accountancy and management
- Real estate business
- Tourist marketing

The degree obtained after these two-year upper technical schooling is a B.T.S. (equivalent of HNC).

A continuing training center complements our educational range. We also offer a wide variety of trainings to make it possible for people to attend further education or to catch up with the required level or to get a preparation to some civil service exams. The students have different backgrounds (university students, working people, unemployed people, etc...). These trainings are essentially linked to the medical and secretarial fields.

- preparation to medical secretarial work exams
- preparation to nurse school admission exam
- preparation to child care exams
- home service and people care training

Our school is located in a rural area, next to a medium-size city (10 km away from Chartres). This location and the reasonable size of our 500-pupil school provide excellent working conditions and a good relationship between the pupils and the staff. All this creates a friendly and peaceful atmosphere which matches our youngsters' expectations.

A network of relations with other European schools and students has developed. Steady exchanges with Poland, Great Britain, and Spain have enriched the schooling and culture of our youngsters. Many projects are being organized and set up, reared by several European organizations.

We invite you to read through our site, and share your ideas and suggestions with us.
